KING DAVID RESTAURANT

The Tradition Continues

King David Restaurant, the best in Middle Eastern and Greek cuisines, was established on the Syracuse University Hill in 1974. Milad and Angela Hatem, originally from Lebanon, began serving their native food to University faculty, students and hospital staff. The original restaurant, located at 129 Marshall Street, burnt in a fire on graduation day in 1988. With hard work, the restaurant was rebuilt on the same location and remained there until the end of 2010. Now the tradition continues, as the second generation in the Hatem family continues to prepare and serve the freshest and healthiest ingredients to Central New Yorkers. With two locations, brothers Charlie and Nader Hatem offer the best in Middle Eastern and Greek cuisine. Whether eating in or taking out, serving one or a party of 200, we are honored that you have chosen King David's. Thank you for your continued patronage.
